A Job Well Done!

Neptune and Jupiter were brought on to the smallholding to be 'fox guards' and protect our poultry. They have done their job really well and we are very proud of them. If they could, we are sure they would feel very proud of themselves as well!!

Have you ever done a job really well and felt proud of what you achieved?

What did you do? Why were you able to do it so well? Did you have help, advice or did you simply know how best to do it?

Were other people proud of you as well? What did they say or do?

Is it okay to feel proud of yourself? Why is this different to boasting? Is it okay to tell people you have done something well or is it better to wait until they notice and tell you?

What personal qualities do you need in order to do a job well? Pride might be one???

Should you always try to do everything as well as you can or is that unrealistic? Why?
